*It was very moving and emotional.
It was very emotional as my Great Uncle Bert came here and his name is on the Remembrance board.
Wow – what a truly special and emotional Remembrance service. Thank you – it was truly amazing and one I'll never forget.
The worship really moved me. I felt like I had a 'moment' where I connected with what the children were singing and saying
It made me cry, made me think about people who had passed away
The war poems were very moving
The children's passion to remember those who sacrificed themselves for us all had an impact on me
The respectful service provided a real sense of belonging and community. When the children sang it was so moving and took me back to a recent funeral.
It was an emotional service – particularly the songs. Extra emotional as it is their last one at Cradley. You should all be very proud
The singing – always emotional. Prayers- keeping faith at the centre
Very respectful.
It was very emotional. The children singing 'We'll meet again' was very special
The whole worship was beautifully worded and every child should be proud
It was a very emotional assembly. The children were amazing
The children coming together and singing was very special
The worship impacted on us – it made us think about our parents who also served in the 2nd World war. The singing of 'We'll meet again' was beautiful – it was great to hear the children singing. It was very touching and raised a tear*

The values reflected in the worship were:

*Cradley values were reflected throughout – children from other schools meeting together to reflect, remember and care
Caring, respect, belonging
Belonging – coming together to pay respects and reflect
My son lives his values even when he is not at school
All the children were involved. There was a trust in the children
The courage of all children
A strong sense of community*

Respect, belonging. My child has been talking at home about what they are learning in school. It is being taught in such a respectful way

Belonging, Courage,

Respect – by the children, the staff, the Royal British Legion and the parents

The Cradley values are always reflected in all assemblies

The Church of England was so well reflected in this great school

Thoughtfulness was shown throughout

The other children's attitudes were...

Exceptional

As always – perfect, happy, proud Their attitude and singing spoke volumes

Calm, respectful, thought-provoking

Awe and wonder

Engaged throughout

Amazing

The children were perfect- they took it all very seriously with hope for the future

Totally engrossed

Sensible

Very respectful

How could the worship have been improved?

Nothing

It couldn't be improved

It couldn't – it was absolutely beautiful and sincere

Make it longer!
